LOS ANGELES, CA – June 1, 2011: Natural supplement maker GreenSilk LLC has introduced its flagship product, GreenSilk Formula 1. Using Mulberry Leaf extract as its core ingredient, GreenSilk Formula 1 is especially suited for providing natural support for controlling blood sugar in the body, which can especially benefit the over 25.8 million Americans with Type II diabetes.

Used in Eastern medicine for centuries, the Mulberry Leaf contains compounds, known as 1-DNJ, that inhibit intestinal enzymes from passing sugars into the bloodstream. It also helps stimulate insulin secretion and reduce LDL cholesterol levels. As a result, taken following a meal, GreenSilk Formula 1 can inhibit absorption of carbohydrates, starches, and sugars to help stabilize blood sugar, reduce cholesterol, and assist in weight management.

Since Mulberry Leaf Extract is also composed of antioxidants, high levels of protein, iron, calcium, A, B's, and C vitamins it can also support immunity and general health for diabetics and non-diabetics alike.

Through years of collaboration with top experts around the world, GreenSilk has developed a unique composition for its GreenSilk Formula 1. Along with Mulberry Extract, supporting ingredients also include Wolfberry, Milk Thistle, Nettle, and Safflower Extract which are known to detoxify, as well as, improve liver and kidney function. By going beyond a single extract and using a specialized combination, GreenSilk Formula 1 is able to provide holistic benefit for the entire body.

To further ensure maximum benefit from their product, GreenSilk spent two years developing a manufacturing process that avoided the use of standard fillers and additives such as Magnesium Stearate, Stearic Acid and Silicon Dioxide, providing customers with the most effective 100% all natural, non-toxic solution on the market today.

GreenSilk Formula 1 is now available online at the GreenSilk.com website, as well as, directly available at a variety of health food stores and pharmacies.
